Using my electron microscope simulation software to prototype the reflection electron microscope and infer its hidden optical state a Explore possible microscope arrangements with real-time diffraction simulation b Recover hidden lens, source and detector settings from diffraction patterns

